Benson.THE MINING OUTLOOK
FOR CLOSE OF 1903.

Contrary to the general expectation of the public and the predictions of mining men at the beginning of the present year, the development companies now operating in the Warren district, have not uncovered the ore body. It was expected before the present date had been reached that the Calumet & Bisbee, the Copper Queen, Marquette & Arizona, Calumet & Cochrise and possibly two or three others of the older development companies, would have encountered the ore and been transformed into mining companies. These expectations and predictions have not come to pass.

Mining stocks, in keeping with the general stock market in all industries, have suffered a decided slump. This has not been confined to the development stocks, but has applied to the mining companies as well, notably among which has been the Calumet and Arizona, which a year ago was selling at $200 per share and to day is marked up at $90.00. The same percentage of decrease has applied to all, with a slight variation. This, in a measure, has been due to the financial conditions that prevail in the east which has affected all stock alike, and a quieting of the investors' pulse who was inclined to "plunge" six months ago, and is now forced to unload in order to raise ready cash.

In the face of these conditions, it is strange to note the increased confidence and the present bright outlook in these same development companies, which have failed to make good the predictions freely offered at the beginning of the year. For instance take the Calumet and Bisbee. While it is a fact that no ore has been encountered in the shaft at a depth of 800 feet, there is not a man connected with this company, from the superintendent to cage tender, who is not willing to wager that the Calumet and Bisbee will encounter the ore. It may not be in the shaft. It may take a longer time than was anticipated, but either in the shaft, drift or winze, the feeling still prevails that the Calumet and Bisbee will find the ore body. With the success or failure of the Calumet and Bisbee, to a great extent, depends the mining activity in the development field. And in this connection it is pleasing to remark the recent strike in the Lake Superior and Pittsburg, only a few hundred yards away. This ore was encountered in a drift running on a direct line to the C. & B. shaft and a large ore body is being opened up on that property. With the C. & B. shaft at a depth of 1000 feet, with several hundred feet of drifts run, and then no ore in sight it will be time enough for the pessimist to say "I told you so."

The development work by the development company has not proceeded as rapidly as had been expected, and the close of 1903 will see the expectations disappointed. This has been brought about principally through an inability to obtain supplies promptly and many annoying delays that were unavoidable.

Passing from the development companies to the older companies, namely Calumet and Pittsburg, Pittsburg and Duluth, Lake Superior and Pittsburg, Calumet and Arizona and last, the grand old Copper Queen, the years' work has been extremely gratifying. Ore bodies, of varying extent, have been opened up and with the coming of the new year, we shall see at least three new mining companies, transformed from development companies, enter into the list of active producers.

Next year will prove the extent of the Warren district. Local confidence, notwithstanding the blighted hopes entertained at the beginning of the year, is stronger than ever, and the old prospector and miner, familiar with the district, still pins his faith and his pocket book to the success of the Higgins, C. & B. C. & C. Woly. & Ariz. et al.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN.

Last Friday afternoon, upon the streets of Bisbee, was to be seen a hearse with waving black plumes. On either side marched six pallbearers. Following it a procession of men, whose faces are familiar to many of the citizens of Bisbee. Leading the procession was the band, playing the "Dead March" music of the Dead March. The hearse contained all that was mortal of a young man, also known to many. Wealthy and in the prime of life but a few days before, and in and about among his associates he went, little knowing that within a few hours, the relentless visaged terror of mankind, would lay his withering hands on that young man's shoulder, and announce to him his hour had come. Stricken with dreaded pneumonia, confinement to his room followed. Situated by circumstances, the knowledge of which were his own from wife and relatives, he lay on that sick bed alone.

Alone—until a body of men, bound by fraternal ties were advised of his illness, when he was no longer alone. Kind expressions of good cheer came to gladden the sick room, brotherly hands brought to the shrinking invalid dainty, tempting morsels, hoping to revive the sinking spirit. Fraternal hands ministered to the last sad moment of separation, until the angel of death called away the fluttering spirit, and left but the hollow crust of what had been—a man.

Denied possibly through the circumstances of fate, those social conditions and surroundings which the world covets generally, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, gathered about the body of their dead brother, provided the last sad rites that may be administered to a human being, procured the burial of him in a Christian manner and as the man of God pronounced the benediction, bade their fraternal goodbye, who had preceded them into the great beyond. Unaffiliated with this, or any other order, as is the outlooker, there is a great heart lesson in the scenes we have mentioned and described.

It is the immortal lesson and precept of the brotherhood of man. Whatever may be his station in life, whatever his occupation, or places in the great body social, he is called upon to perform his part, there is something ennobling in the society of men who minister to the sick, help the needy, extend spiritual consolation and finally furnish decent Christian burial to the dead.

Death brings the rich and the poor man, the philosopher and the ignorant, the preacher and the layman, the society man and the outcast all to the same level. When the dust is laid to the dust, and ashes to ashes, the great brotherhood of man has performed its function. The society, whatever it may be, the paternal organization whatever its membership, composed of men, is all the better for having existed, if only for the reason that a brother in life, stands at the altar in the absence of dearer friends and relatives and in dropping the twig of evergreen upon the coffin of his deceased brother has testified to the sanctity, good fellowship and eternal goodness of the Brotherhood of Man.

For an "alleged" letter, that of the confined Noftz is a pretty strong "allegement." By the way, what appears to be the difficulty, anyhow, about bringing Noftz back and arraigning him. Three trips by undersheriffs, deputy sheriffs and sheriffs would, it would seem to the outlooker, be sufficient to show eventually how the papers ought to be properly prepared. They have now been signed and resigned by nearly every person in the territory authorized to sign documents.

By all means bring back Noftz, and arraign him.

And the "autumnal nectar" of Arizona weather still holds out as though there was no end to the supply.

Every man has his own "finden out" of how the trains run, appears to be the schedule provided for Bisbeetees.

Every body keep their eyes on Elizabeth's strong box. Report has it that $7,000,000 is now on its way to Australia.

With two schools in the Don Luis addition the children now, and those to be born will not lack for educational facilities.

Every body wants to practice jumping sideways. Might as well begin now, for the motorman's clanging bell will be behind you soon.

With Pythian Hall, The Review building, the construction of another business block of pressed brick and stone, the eyes will be attracted to O. K. street.

The opening game of baseball in the new Athletic Park at Don Luis, and won by Bisbee, is an auspicious inauguration of the new grounds, the new park, the new townsite and the New Bisbee.

The question is being quietly asked, "why are certain deputy sheriffs' commission being recalled?" The question may be answered shortly and clearly. There's "something doing" from the old court house on Toughnut street.

Reference is called to an article appearing in the mining columns of The Review of today, entitled "The Mining Outlook for the Close of 1903." It is believed that the article there sets forth the situation as it really exists in the Warren Mining District, and as such conservatively and truthfully tells the story of the Development and Mining companies of the district, devoid of paint, and barren of pessimism.

RAISED A DISTURBANCE.

Last evening about 9 o'clock the officers were called to the Angius House on Main street to put an end to a disturbance which was being raised by Henry Sarasin, a roomer at that house. Officers Jennings and Chidester repaired to the scene, and when they attempted to place Sarasin under arrest, he attempted to get his gun, which was in a bureau drawer. The officers jumped to his side in time to prevent possible bloodshed, and brought the offender before Justice Brown. He was permitted to go on depositing cash bail.

He then persisted in returning to the Angius, but was prevented from so doing by Deputy Sheriff Chidester. Later he was escorted to the Norton House by friends.

MCLELLAN AND TAMMANY ARE VICTORIOUS.

et at Buffalo. Buff had no election for mayor this year. At Binghamton, mayor and entire republican ticket elected. Republicans carry Ithaca. The democrats carry Auburn, with the exception of a few minor officers. At Utica the democrats elect the mayor and entire city ticket. Home elects a republican mayor. At Oswego the democrats elect a mayor and a majority of the aldermen. Schenectady returns a democratic mayor.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Chas. H. Gans, republican, was re-elected mayor of Albany today by a plurality considerably larger than six years ago.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—At 8:30 p. m. reports from Towson, county seat Baltimore county, gone democratic by 500. Four years ago Governor Smith, democrat, carried the county by 1,876. No returns from Baltimore city received.

Ad Maryland

Baltimore, Nov. 3, 2:00 a. m.—At 1 o'clock this morning returns from the city and Maryland counties are meager, owing to length of ballot, and therefore it is impossible to accurately estimate the result. Indications, however, point to the election of Edwin Warfield, democrat, as governor, and that the legislature which will elect a United States senator, will also be democratic.

NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, Nov. 4.—Republicans elected four of six state senators and sufficient assemblymen to claim both houses.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—With the close of this election, characterized by unusually heavy vote, numerous disorders, and evidences of many gross irregularities, the re-election of Governor Beckham, democrat, over Col. Morris B. Belknap, republican, by a majority of fully 15,000, seems assured. The republicans concede the election of Governor Beckham.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3, 9:30 p. m.—The returns so far received from over the state indicate the re-election of Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, democrat, by a majority estimated at 14,000 votes. The voting has been unusually heavy. Out of 119 counties in the state returns have been received from only 22. These give Beckham 34,485, Belknap 22,935. Beckham's majority, 12,413. Belknap carried five of these twenty-two counties, sixteen of which are nominally democratic.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—Partial returns from 75 precincts give Mayor Schmitz, union labor, 712; Crocker, republican, 614; Lane, democrat, 446.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 3.—Incomplete returns indicate that the republicans elect their candidate for mayor.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—Incomplete returns received up to 9:30 p. m. indicate the probable re-election of Eugene E. Schmitz, union labor candidate for mayor, by small plurality.

UTAH.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 3.—Incomplete returns from three precincts show democratic gains and indicate the election of Morris, democrat, for mayor.

CONNECTICUT.

New Haven, Nov. 3.—Mayor Charles, labor candidate, re-elected at Ansonia by forty votes.

Indications point to the re-election of Dennis Mulvihill, the "stoker mayor," democrat, at Bridgeport.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 3.—Governor Cummins, and the entire republican ticket were elected. Indications are that the democrats made slight gains in the legislature.

NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Nov. 3.—Twenty-one precincts outside Douglas county (Omaha) gives Barnes, republican, for supreme judge, 2,173; Sullivan, fusionist, 2,001. The first fourteen precincts showed net fusion gain of 213. A proportionate fusion gain throughout the state will elect Sullivan.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 3.—Returns for governor from 301 cities and towns out of 353, including Boston, give Bates, republican, 90,203; Gaston, democrat, 85,143. The same cities and towns last year gave Bates 90,961, Gaston 83,684. Bates' plurality is estimated to be about the same as last year, 5,519,000.

Boston, Nov. 3.—The total vote for governor in 351 out of 353 cities and towns, including Boston, gives Bates, republican, 139,900; Gaston, democrat, 119,101. The same places last year gave Bates 137,904, Gaston 117,432.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—All candidates on the republican city ticket were elected today by the usual large republican majorities, probably more than 100,000. The candidates on the republican state for treasurer, auditor general and two judges of the superior court carried the city by pluralities as large as the local candidates.

COLORADO.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 3.—With nearly complete returns from the election in this city, and scattering returns from various parts of the state, there seems little doubt of the re-election of John Campbell, republican, as member of the supreme court. No other office is filled by this year's election. Chairman Milton Smith of the democratic state central committee concedes election of Campbell.

OHIO.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—On scattering returns received up to 7:20 p. m., republicans claim a plurality approximating 100,000, and over two-thirds of each branch of the legislature.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—At 9:30 p. m. the estimated republican plurality in Ohio will not be less than 125,000, and might beat their record of 137,000 made in 1894.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—At 10:30 p. m. Chairman Dick has issued a statement that Herrick, republican candidate for governor, would have a plurality in excess of 100,000, and that the republicans would have at least sixty majority on joint ballot in the legislature, thus assuring the re-election of Hanna.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 4.—At midnight returns indicate re-election of Governor Garvin, democrat, by greatly reduced plurality.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA RAPIDLY FILLING UP.

Southern California is growing in population faster than any other section of the United States, consequently real estate values are going up more rapidly there than anywhere else. People are just waking up to the fact that Southern California is the most delightful spot on earth to live, and they are now rushing in from all parts of the globe. The coast towns and cities are by far the most attractive and healthful residence sections, and therefore are having the largest growth of all. Ninety per cent of the people want to live on the coast and at the rate these people are coming to the coast and investing it will not be long until all the desirable residence sections are filled up. Already the prices for desirable lots at coast towns around Los Angeles are so high that the small investor or home seeker is forced to go inland. The rush began at San Francisco and came south. San Diego is the furthest south, therefore it is the last to feel the boom, but it has come, just as people with foresight knew it must, and real estate is going up in value there more rapidly now than anywhere on the coast. San Diego has more advantages from the homeseeker's standpoint than any other city on the coast, therefore prices should go higher, they will at last go a high. Invest now, while it is within your reach.
